In order to keep the farm in the best perpet-ual condition, as well as for convenience, stock to a certain amount must be kept thereon, and it is a nice point to know how much exactly may be kept to the most advantage. That part of the subject is a matter that has not escaped my attention and experience. On a farm of 160 acres divided into 5 fields of 30 acres each, exclusive of orcbard, &c., affording one field for hay, one for pasture, one for core, one for barley and oats, and one for AGRICULTURAL SOCIATIES AND RACING There has been a tendency of late years among agricultural societies—both State and county—to make speed in the horse a pramium q ally, it is a question with some whether at is not the duty of these societies to check this disposition at once—fearing its finale will be racing with the unpleasant accompanients of turf sports; with others the question is how far we may indulted in a sport for which the soundest wheat, the following quantity of stock may be tept, if the land be good, without much incenenience, to a good profit, having grass for sum-ner, and hay, fodder, and straw in winter, te to the stock, to-wit;

the garments and character of race clubs.

The questions are important, and agricultural societies should fix a point to which they will go and beyond which they will not go.

In our view a horse designed for or inary use upon the farm and upon the road; before the plow to-day and before the carriage formorgow—destitute of the quall les which insure good speed and free and casy action, is wanting in sverything really valuable.

The whole Whig party in the North was just as much free-soiled as Martin Van Buren ar Prince John; and we emphatically assert that Martin Van Buren and his son John always have heen and are now sounder upon all constitutional questions (the subject of slavery included) than Millard Fillmore, and we had rather support either of them for President than ther support either of them for President than support Filimore

The Atlanta (Gs.) Inielligencer, a leading Buchsnan paper in that State, grows still holder. Hear it: For our part, we do not scruple to say it, that we would sower see Fremont, traitor as he is to the home of his hirth, the President of the United States than Mr. Fillmore, who never ceased to hate and persecute the South until the South had bought him off with the Vice Presidency.

The Knoxville Register, one of the most infinential Buchanan organs in Tennessee, boldly proclaims that it would rather see Fremont etected than Fillmore. We could mention a multitude of prominent Buchanan men in this city who have proclaimed the same thing. Several highly respectable gentlemen Georgia have published their affidavits in the Augusta Chronicle, that the Hon. T. P. Safford, Democratic elector for the seventh district of Georgia, said on the 30th of August, "narrow down the election to Fillmore and Fremont, and I would vote for Fremont," and I would vote for Fremont," and the reason he gave was that the South would then show an unbroken front, and that the abolitionists, seeing us united and prepared to dissolve the seeing us united and prepared to dissolve the Union, would give the South her rights. The same gentlemen testify in their affidavit, that on Mr. Safford's heing told that he would vote for Fremont say how it he should be elected as uniped. The proceedings were opened by prayer and sizeling. The treasurer's report was then read. The subjoined is a summary of the receipts and export the vear:

We say to them, what they can learn from a thousand authentic sources, that there is not one of all the fierce and powerful band of Sonthern disunionists, who would not greatly prefer Fremont's election to Fillmore's, and we prefer Fremont'a election to Fillmore's, and we say too, that there are thousands and tens of on the Bible Un say too, that there are thousands and tens of thousands of them who would even prefer Fremont to Buchanan, from a conviction that the election of Fremont would soonest hring ahout the dreadful National catastrophe, upon which their whole aculs are darkly heat.

Let nobody suppose that the deciarations of preference for Fremont over Fillmore, cited by

True, many of the Sag-Nicht presses of the South dare not openly unite with those of their own number that avow a preference Balance for Fillmore, yet, so far as we know, there is not a Buchanan editor in the whole South, who has declared, or can be induced to declare, that | Cn. them can be made to open its mouth in rehuke cft or dissent from, those of its party, that dectare for Fremont as against Fillmore. As Heaven is our judge, we fully believe that a majority of the Buchanan editors, Buchanan ectors, Buchanan stump-speakers, and ail ther sorts of Buchanen leaders in the South, ouid most gladly see Fremont elected rather than Fillmore. Let the Southern public look at facts as they address, in which he advocated the cause of Bible revision, and answered the objections are and then decide as to the amount of political call capital that old Mr. Wickliffs and other urged against the movemen'. political malignants, old, young, and middle aged, should be allowed to make out of our declaration, that, as at present advised, we should prefer the election of Morton to the Governorsh.p of Indiana to that of Willard, the mortal enemy of our party, and the champion of that most loathssome and odious of all the protean shapes of abolitionism, squatter sovereignly. We confess our desire to see Buchanan crushed out, puiverized, scattered to the winds, annihilated, by the October elections. We have no fears of Fremont's election unless the Buchanan disunionate in the South and heir Democratic accomplices in the North can muster the audacity to support him directity, and we have no thought that they can. We wish to eee the whole country brought, by the crushing-out of Buchanan in October, to the political malignants, old, young, and middlecrushing-ont of Buchanan in October, to the alternative of Fillmore or Fremont, and we
